2PR FM Negotiating Copyright Deals for Permanent Broadcasting Updated Monday 20th September 2010 at 8:15 pm

With a three week extension, our last test broadcast has been another success, with 2PR FM moving ever closer to permanent broadcasting.

Unfortunately, as we are now coming up to the reality of negotiating through various copyright issues, we regret that as of the present, that we will be off air until these issues are resolved. Though we are silent, please be assured that 2PR FM is not gone, nor has ended. As a matter a fact, this is perhaps the most exciting phase in the station's history.

As this involves dealing with a number of parties, we are not sure how long this silent phase will last. We are desperately trying to be fully licensed by our tenth anniversary in early November. We can only cross our fingers.

2PR FM Moves Ever Closer to Permanent Broadcasting Updated Thursday 2nd September 2010 at 8:25 pm

It's been another exciting month at 2PR FM, with the passing of our fourth test broadcast, again another outstandingly successful test.

With this in mind, we are now heading into, what could be our last leg of off air silence before the commencement of full-time broadcasting. We are currently in negotiations with relevant copyright and licensing associations in Australia, in the effort of finding a copyright agreement that will benefit both copyright owners, and 2PR FM. We hope an arrangement can be found where 2PR FM only has to pay a percentage of it's revenue, and at the same time support the artists and groups we play, in paying the relevant royalties. Such a deal will be a win for all, where no-one loses out.

In a brief look back of our last test, we decided to stream from LoudCity, due to a reliable broadcasting platform, and a streaming service that is legally compliant in relation to copyright issues. With the success of LoudCity, we are happy to announce that they will become our permanent stream provider when 2PR FM goes into full-time broadcasting.

Updates will be posted here and on 2PR FM's Twitter page when future developments take place. Stick around, and watch Sydney's most exciting radio project in the making. We are here to blow the sheer boredom of Sydney Radio out of the water, we are the retro earthquake about to happen, consider this an early warning. :) :)

2PR FM Third Test Broadcast Completed Successfully Updated Thursday 8th July 2010 at 6:30 pm

Once again, 2PR FM blazes the digital domain with another successful test broadcast, our third in our new phase for a permanent transmission, and for the ultimate goal of giving radio listeners a station with true archival library music variety.

As of this test, we had over 6,000 tracks in our play list with the addition of the "It's Time" chart show. For extra variety, we have also started our new 3 by 3 music system, playing three tracks in a row from each of our feature decades.

With our third test, we have pushed ourselves another step closer to full time broadcasting. We will inform you of new developments when we continue with our fourth test, which will operate from our ever increasing digital music library.
